THE POPE TO HUNGARIAN BISHOPS. HE INSTRUCTS THEM TO BEGIN LEGAL AGITA-TION FOR MODIFICATION OF THE BAP-TISM BILL.

Budapest, Sept. 28.—Cardinal Vaszary, Primate of Hungary, at a conference of bishops here to-day, read a letter from the Pope instructing the Hungarian hierarchy to use their efforts with the House of Magnates to influence modification of the bill of Magnates to influence modification of the lealing with the religion of children of mixed martiages. The letter says that the agitation must be no perfectly lexal form. The Pope's letter also younsels the Episcopate to tolerate without opposition the remaining ecclesiastical reforms of the dingarian Government.

That bill, while leaving untouched the privilege of Hungarians to a religious marriage, proclaimed that the civil marriage should be performed and stand as the only one recognized by law. When it was adopted by the majority in the Table of Magnates, or Upper Chamber, thirty-six out of Magnates, or Upper Chamber, thirty-six out of Magnates, or Upper Chamber, thirty-six out of thirty-nine Catholic prelates, members of that Hungarian Senate, present at the sitting, voted against it. The lower clergy and the popular classes also declared violently against the bill; and their organ, the "Masyar Allam," attacked the prelates for not continuing the fight after the bill had become a law through the vote of the majority in Parliament. They also denied the Pope's right of advising the faithful to submit to the new law, which would enfaithful to submit to the new law, which would enfaithful to submit to the new law, which would enfaithful to submit to the new law, which would enfaithful to submit to the new law, which would enfaithful to submit to the new law, which would enfaithful to submit to the new law, which would enfaithful to submit to the new law, which would enfaithful to submit to the pope's right of advising the faithful to submit to the new law, which would enfaithful to submit to the pope's right of advising the faithful to submit to the new law, which would enfaithful to submit he properly in a properly in a submit to the present of the faithful to submit to the present of the faithful to submit to the present of the faithful to submit to the remainder being composed of Protestants, Greek Orthodox, etc. Mixed marriages are frequent, about 15,000 occurring annually. GOVERNOR M'KINLEY AT GALLIPOLIS.

DISCUSSING THE LABOR QUESTION-HIS COMING WESTERN TRIP.

Gallipolis, Ohio, Sept. 28 .- Governor McKinley arrived here to-day on the southbound Hocking Valley train, and was cordially welcomed by the people of Gallipolis. The entire town was decorated, and delegations from many neighboring places were here. Among the men who accompanied Major McKinley here were L. J. Fenton, of Winchester, candidate for Congress in this district, and Warren Miller, of Jackson Court House, W. Governor McKinley's speech this afternoon was on the labor question. He told his audience about the decrease of the number of working people employed in various manufacturing establishments, as shown by the Bureau of Statistics report.

The Governor referring to last night's banquet to Congressman Wilson by the London Board of Trade, inquired if any one knew of any American Board of Trade giving a dinner to the author of the late Tariff law. His speech was punctuated by hearty applause. Columbus, Ohlo, Sept. 28.—Governor McKinley will leave here on his Southwestern and Western campaign tour on Sunday night, going first to Chicago, where he will leave Mrs. McKinley with cago, where he will leave Mrs. Mckinley with relatives until his entire programme is completed, a few days before Election Day. He will leave Chicago for St. Louis at 10 o'clock on Monday morning, arriving just in time to reach the hall in which he is announced to speak. In the next six weeks he will speak in eight States, perhaps ten, excluding his own. He may accept the New-Orleans Sugar-planters' invitation, if late dates in October

HOWGATE TO BE SENT TO WASHINGTON. Captain Henry W. Howgate, who was arrested in this city on Thursday, near his old book store in Fourth-ave., and committed to Ludlow Street Jail by United States Commissioner Alexander, charged with the embezzlement of $370,000 while in the Weather Bureau at Washington thirteen years ago, was taken before Judge Benedict, of the United States District Court yesterday. Howgate admitted States District Court yesterday. Howgate admitted his identity. Judge Benedict signed an order for his removal to Washington for trial in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia. Howgate was then taken to the private office of United States Marshal McCarty. He was asked whether he had any statement to give out.—"I have nothing to say here," he replied. "Whatever there is to be said will come out in Washieston."

THE W. P. WENTWORTH PORGERY CASE. The trial of William P. Wentworth, ex-cashler of the Victoria Hotel, was resumed in Part II, of General Sessions, yesterday morning before Judge Martine. The defence has already marked out the line of action. This will be to prove, if possible, that the $40,000 and more alleged to have been stolen by Wentworth, really went to Montgomery with the knowledge and consent of Mr. Hoyt, the manager of the hotel at that time. The defence will en-deavor to prove that Wentworth was not a fugitive, deavor to prove that Wentworth was not a fugitive, never acted like one, and that his presence in Saratoga was known to Montsomery. The latter is said to be a promoter, who has made and lost several fortunes. He was, and it, a close friend of Mr. Hoyt, who said on Thursday on the stand that he had unlimited confidence in Montgomery. Mr. Levy said also that it might be shown that Counsellor Muller, who lived in the hotel and was Hoyt's lawyer, also received a portion of the money. The ex-clerk, Babcock, whose story was not finished on Thursday night, was recalled to the stand yesterday for cross-examination. Mr. Hoyt was also cross-examined. Several other witnesses testified, and the case then went over until next Tuesday.

MR. COCKRAN WAS OVERRULED

HIS INCOME TAX PLANK WAS THOROUGH-

LY REVISED.

THE COMMITTEE ON RESOLUTIONS OF THE

The publication by The Tribune on Thursday of some of the secret history of the Democratic State Convention furnished "The Sun" yesterday with material for reading a lecture to Controller Ashbel P Fitch, who, it is alleged, caused the substitution of a tame and harmiess plank against the income tax for a strong and forcible resolution on that subject which had been prepared by the sub-committee to which the Committee on Platform turned over the work of preparing the document. The original reso lution was said to read as follows:

Intion was said to read as follows:

The Democrats of New-York oppose, either as a temporary expedient or as a permanent policy, an inquisitional and inadequate income tax, under which New-York would pay at least one-third of all the revenue collected; and we reiterate the declaration of the Democratic National platform of 1888 that taxes collected at the custom-houses should be, and must continue to be, the chief source of Federal revenue, as they have been from the foundation of the Government.

But after the full committee had acted on the recommendations of the sub-committee the income-tax plank was found changed into the following language, and in this shape was reported to the vention and adopted:

We commend the efforts made by the Senators and Representatives in Congress from this State to avert the imposition of the present income tax, and we record our regret that the reform of the tariff, to which all Democrats were committed, was embarrassed by engrafting on its provisions a direct tax, to which many Democrats were strenuously opened.

Fitch. It said yesterday that he held an office which made him "in one sense the representative of New-York's immense interests, assailed by this Populistic More than that, it had supposed that he man to mince words over an odious and indefensible measure to which he was inflexibly opposed."

From a member of the Platform Committee whe represented one of the interior counties a Tribune reporter yesterday learned some additional facts about the executive session of that body which have not yet appeared in print. The sub-committee referred to was made up of Congressman W. Bourke Cockran and ex-Congressman Perry Belmont, of this city; Daniel G. Griffin, of Watertown, Governor Flower's personal champion, and two other country members. The members of the sub-committee, it is said, sat up all Tuesday night haggling over adjectives and phrases which Mr. Cockran was desirous of incorporating into the comparatively pain dietion in which it was couched when it reached them from the hands of the original framer. Some of the sentences Mr. Cockran insisted on wholly reacting, so that they might be arrayed in his own light, Roman-candle-like style. As the member from the country described it, "They'd had a regular monkey-and-parrot time, and when they came to make their report to the whole committee they were in a desperately bad humor, a condition which applied especially to Mr. Cockran. the executive session of that body which have no

Cockran "ripping, tearing mad," as the eye-wilneral expressed it, and he attacked the Albany man without mercy, "jumping on him with both feet."

The beiligerent attitude of Mr. Cockran, it is related, completely silenced Mr. Tracey, who fell back in his chair, crushed and heipiess, but Controiler Fitch promptly came to his friend's aid (they had served in Congress together), and put on the gloves with Cockran. Mr. Fitch advised the elimination of the superfluous polysyllabler, not only in the interest of effective statement, but also expostulated with Mr. Cockran in the interest of the English language, which he said had been shockingly abused in an effort to make the arraignment of the income tax overwhelming.

Mr. Cockran made a strong fight, but the committee took Mr. Fitch's views, and reduced the resolution to a simpler form, Mr. Fitch also "went for" another resolution, for which, it was snid, Mr. Griffin was responsible. This praised Governor Flower "for his unceasing vigilance and patriotic and unselfish labors in behalf of the honest harness-makers of the State in securing the abolition of the manufacture of horse-collars in the prisons of the Empire State"—or words to that effect.

When the "horse-collar" plank was read, Mr.
Fitch made a sarcastle remark in reference to it, and asked Mr. Cockran if he really could not dispense with it, for this campaign at least. Mr.
Cockran, who continued to be in a serious mood, resented Mr. Fitch's levity with considerable asperity, but when he found that the laugh was on him and his colleague, Griffin, Mr. Cockran yielded as gracefully as circumstances would admit, and mention of the laurels which Governor Flower won as the champion of horse-collars was reserved for some future Democratic State Convention.

Controller Fitch was asked yesterday for his version of the details relating to the work of the Committee on Platform, but he refused to talk on the subject.

"It would be manifestly improper," he said, "for me to speak of what occurred in the exec

GERMANS HEARTILY FOR THE TICKET. THE REPUBLICAN CENTRAL COMMITTEE ADOPTS STRONG RESOLUTIONS.

The German Republican Central Committee a rousing meeting last evening at No. 12 St. Mark's Place, and adopted resolutions ratifying the nomi-nations of the Republican Convention. Ferdinand Elekman of fered the following resolutions:

fered the following resolutions:

The Republican State Convention, held at Saratoga on September 17, 1834, having obeyed the overwhelming sentiment of the Republicans of the Empire State by placing in nomination for the office of Governor the Hon. Levi P. Morton; for Lieutenant Governor Charles T. Saxton; for Associate Judge of the Court of Appeals Albert Haight, a ticket invincible in itself, the united, harmonious and most enthusiastic fighting spirit of the party in the State has been at once aroused and the campaign can end only in an unprecedented victory.

The name of Levi P. Morton is world-famed as a business man, a philantropist, a diplomat and an American statesman of the highest standing. The latest office with which the American people saw fit to intrust to him, the Vice-Presidency, was solved to intrust to him, the Vice-Presidency, was ability and fairness excited universal admiration.

Although full of public honors, and anxious to return to private life, yet Levi P. Morton obeys the earnest, sincere and practically unanimous voice of his party, nobly sacrifices all personal considerations and consents once more to carry the banner of his party to victory.

Charles T. Saxton, ever an earnest, faithful and his party, honly some more to carry the relations and consents once more to carry the relation of his party to victory.

Charles T. Saxton, ever an earnest, faithful and able legislator, earned special glory for his great ecrylees in the interest of ballot reform. His record in the State Senate, as leader, first of a minority and then of a majority, showed him to be one of the ablest and most courageous of leaders in his party and of his time.

Albert Haight, candidate for Judge of the Court of Appeals, also deserves commendation as a jurist of marked ability and sterling integrity. Be it therefore

There seems to be no doubt that the anti-machine Democrats are seriously considering the advisability of holding a convention of their own to nominate an independent State ticket. Edward M. Shepard, leader of the anti-McLaughlin wing of the Kings leader of the anti-McLaugnin wing of the County Democracy, for the last day or two has been busy conferring with anti-machine Democrats in this city—among others Charles S. Fairchild, Carl Schurz and Maurice J. Power. None of them will should be the conferred by Mr. say that a convention is to be called, but Mr. Shepard yesterday acknowledged that such a thing

Mr. Shepard yesterday morning met several antimachine Democrats at his office, No. 111 Broadway. Carl Schurz was one of them, and he looked exme reporter asked Mr. Shepard if Mr. Schurz's visit ad anything to do with the poposed convention, Mr

Shepard said he was not at liberty to say "It is too early to talk about the intentions of anti-machine Democrats," he replied. When asked point-blank if the anti-machine men uid hold a convention to nominate a State ticket,

"Yes, the matter will be taken under serious consideration"

"When will the question be decided?"

"On Monday I think."

Mr. Shepard said there was a strong feeling against Hill, and that the anti-machine Demo-trats had been badly treated at Saratoga. He till thought it improbable that Judge Gaynor would accept the nomination for Judge of the fourt of Appeals. He would say nothing more. Charles S. Fairchild was less communicative than fr. Shepard. When the reporter asked him the ame question about the proposed convention and ndependent ticket, he said:
"Really, I am not in a position to say what will e done. I cannot tell until after the county connition next Wednesday. Oh, I'm sick of police, anyway."

These Democrats hope that Judge Gaynor of the plans of Mr. Shepard and his friends, and their course has evidently not been mapped out. But the Shepard committee is preparing to nominate a full ticket of candidates for the local offices against the machine men of the Bell faction, because of the men chosen to represent Kings County on the State Committee. The fact that such notorious old-time leaders as John McCarty, John Delmar, Patrick H. McCarren and Michael J. Coffey have been made State Committeemen serves to show conclusively that the "turning down" of the old leaders was only a feint and that the reorganization was borus was bogus. Grout, former law partner of Judge Gaynor, who had said he would leave the Shepard crimination and join the Hell organization if the former failed to support the State treket, said yesterday that he was convinced by the action of the Hell people in the choice of Wilcoughby-st, men for the State Committee that they were still supreme in the party despite the pretence to the contrary. He had changed his mind so far as any co-operation with it in local affairs was concerned. But Mr. Grout expects to urge indorsement of the State tecker before the Shepard committee. He hopes Judge Gaynor will decline the nomination.

The Tilden men produced a long list of names, and threatened to throw the inspectors out of deors if they were not permitted to cast their ballots. Things began to look squally, and Mr. Fennei declared the primary adjourned. There were loud protests at this and several hats were knocked off and some noses were blooded, but the Tilden men finally withdrew. After they had gone the voting was resumed. SECRETARY LAMONT'S FAINT PRAISE. THE ADMINISTRATION THROWS COLD WATER ON HILL'S CANDIDACY.

Washington, Sept. 28 (Special). The first auth expression of opinion in Administration circles on the bewildering performances of the Saratoga Convention is conveyed in a brief and rather tepid in-terview which appears this afternoon with Secretary Lamont. Departing from his usual habits of mystery and secretiveness, the President's "political agent" significantly damns the candidacy of the chief political foe of the Administration with this faint praise:

I see no reason why Mr. Hill should not be elected. New York is a Democratic State, and has been for thirty years. Mr. Hill is a vote getter, and the campaign will undoubtedly be an active one. There may be some men of greater or less prominence with more or less of a following, who will refuse to support him, but he will not be concerned about that. He has his own way of making a canvass and will look elsewhere for his votes. He has unquestionably looked the ground over, and knows about where his strength lies and thoroughly understands the situation. His opponent is not an exceptionally strong candidate. Mr. Morton is an agreeable gentleman, but there is nothing in his candidacy to attract such Democrats as may not like Mr. Hill, nor is he likely to draw the independent vote. I see no reason why Mr. Hill should not be elected.

Whether the "men of greater or less promibackbone of the Fairchild anti-machine Democrac Mr. Lamont is careful to leave obscure. By the Mr. Lamont is careful to leave obscure. By the great bulk of the Democratic managers here Mr. Hill's defeat would be hailed with rejoicing, as his power and influence in National politics, even now hared and dreaded by the Cleveland, Democrats, would become almost irresistible within the party if he should carry New-York State again this fail, Mr. Lamont realizes this danger as keenly as any one, and it is evident that he is already preparing to pour as much cold water as possible on Mr. Hill's candidacy for a third term as Governor of New-York.

Rochester, N. Y., Sept 28.-William Armstrong, of this city, was nominated by the Republicans of the IIId Assembly District to-day for the Assembly. Stratoga, N. 1., Sept. 28 (special).—The Stratoga County Democratic Convention at an adjourned session this afternoon nominated the following: For member of Assembly, John Henry Massey, of Stillwater; for Sheriff, Edward H. Collector Kilbreth was quoted yesterday in nomination of Hill was the best thing that could homination of Hill was the best thing that could happen to the Republican party, as Hill was responsible for Maynard's crime. THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE FOR GOVERNOR WILL OPEN THE CAMPAIGN WITH A SPEECH IN BROOKLYN.

IBY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRISUNE.

Albany, Sept. 25.-David B. Hill disclosed his sympathy again with the Maynard Democrats today in the character of the committee he had appointed to notify him formally of his nomination for Governor by the Democratic State Convention. Charles R. DeFreest, the secretary of the convention, nominally made this appointment, but, of course, Mr. Hill actually dictated the names of the comman who heads the committee is James W. Hinckley, of Poughkeepsie, the new chairman of the Democratic State Committee.

Mr. Hinckley, like David B. Hill, has a "Maynard past." It was Hinckley and Maynard, acting under orders of Hill, who made the arrangements in Poughkeepsie for the theft of the Dutchess County Senate district in 1891. Repeatedly in November and December, 1891, Hinckley travelled between Poughkeepsle and Albany to inform Mr. Hill of the progress of the conspiracy to steal the seat of the late Gilbert A. Dean, and confer it upon Edward Osborne, who was not elected. Mr. Hinckley, in view of his great services to David B. Hill at this time in 1891, in 1894 is not only made chairalso appointed the chairman of the Notification He is to be Hill's right arm, as he Committee was when Hill was stealing the Legislature in

The other members of the Notification Committee are W. Bourke Cockran, of New-York; James D. Bell, of Brooklyn; Senator Amasa J. Parker, of Albany, and ex-Senator Charles P. The committee will perform its work, it is said, upon Friday next in Albany, By that time Mr. Hill will have learned what Levi ganization recalled the fact that last winter it had requested the Legislature to send to New-York a committee to investigate the Tammany city government, pointing out scandals and abuses. Mr. Hill has had many telegrams of congratulation upon his nomination, many of them, singular to relate, from personal enemies, but none has

The Tribune has pointed out that its columns, as far back as March and again early in September, foreshadowed the nomination of Hill. On August t "The Syracuse Standard" printed an article headed: "Will Hill Run for Governor?" in which an affirmative reply to the question was made. Again, on September 19, "The Troy Press," special dispatch from New-York, said: "Give your readers the straight tip that David Bennett Hill will be the next Democratic candidate for Governor of New-York. At all the political headquarters the name of Hill is on everybody's lips as the man who can surely beat Morton. Reports from the in-terior swell the Hill beom. Mark the prediction of your correspondent. Hill will be nominated and by acclamation." After all, the "stampede" was not as unexpected as the traditional lightning from a clear sky.

"As a stampeder," says "The Buffalo Express." Bourke Cockran is a success, especially when the plans and specifications of the stampede have been carefully prepared beforehand."

In a dispatch from its correspondent in Washington, "The Troy Daily Times" prints the following interview with Franklin D. Locke, one of the leading Anti-Snappers of Buffalo: "The nomination of Hill does not end the fight with us. We thought we had a cleaning out last fall, but if it must be done again, why let it be done again. What New-York does this year is not going to have any effect in 1885. Hill is not the man to give us a pure elec-tion in New-York, and as I opposed him in the May-nard campaign, I shall oppose him in this."

"The Mount Vernon Record" urges that a man sembly should be nominated for the Assembly by the Republicans of the district, and it adds that Bradford Rhodes is such a man. "The Record" points to his Normal School for Westchester County bill, his Anti-Gambling and Anti-Bucketshop bilis, and his Savings Bank Investment bill, besides others, and to his active and vigorous work in gen-eral as reasons for sending Mr. Rhodes to the As-sembly again. The Republican Congress Convention of the XXII4

District, which has had many ineffectual ballots at Northyllie, is to meet again on October 2, in Saratoga. Speaker Ma'by, in behalf of the St. Law rence County delegates, insists that General N. M. rence County delegates, insists that General N. M. Curtis is entitled to a renomination, while Fulton and Hamilton and Saratoga counties, which each have a candidate, insist that, as he has already been elected twice, he should give some one outside of St. Lawrence County a chance. "The Gloversville Intel Isencer," its making a plea for Judge Baker, says that Fulton and Hamilton counties have never yet had a Republican candidate for Congress.

"The Poughkeepsie Star" urges the formation of more Republican clubs in Dutchess County, "The Star" believes that with the hearty co-operation Republicans the State League of Cubs could be made a mighty power in the present campaign Poughkeepsle's sole representative in the convention of the State League at Saratoga last week was The renomination of Charles W. Gillet, of Addison, for Congress by acclamation, says "The Elmira Advertiser," is an honor and a complement fully merited by the able, foithful and painstaking representative upon whom it was conferred Mr. representative upon whom it was conferred Mr. representative upon whom it was conferred Mr. representative and the Republicans of the XXIXth District are determined that his majority this year shall be much larger.

"The Rochester Democrat and Chronicle" says: "The way in which the Democratic Convention got rid of the Monroe County contest failed to give satisfaction to either faction; either side would nized, and had the matter settled for all and for good, rather than to have it left as it was. The suspense will weigh very heavily upon the young men of the Cleveland faction. The Hill faction think they see, in the event of their leaders elec-tion as Governor, a return of the old order of things."

NOTES OF THE CANVASS.

At a business meeting of the XXIIId Assembly District Anti-Tammany Club, held on Wednesday night in the clubrooms at No. 734 Amsterdamthe club a subscription of $100 a year for ten years for the club to distribute among the poor of the district. Mrs. Pomeroy a short time ago gave to the club a handsome campaign binner. A meeting of the old Harrison and Morton Republican Club was held at West End-ave, and the Boulevard on Thursday night for reorganization as the Levi P. Morton Committee of One Thousand. This organization is composed of prominent Republicans from the various wards in the city, and it did excellent service in the former campaign. Another meeting is to be held in a few days to raise

FOREST FIRES IN MINNESOTA.

Brainerd, Minn., Sept. 28.-No further news to regard to the forest fires can be obtained. The smoke in the burned districts is so dense that it is impossible to investigate, although fears are entertained that the family of Joseph Myers per ished. Prairie fires are raging east and north of Morris.

MAYOR REMIS OF OMAHA ACQUITTED. Omaha, Sept. 28.-Mayor George P. Bemis was feasance and misfeasance in office, brought by two members of the City Council to secure his removal from office. The Mayor has been on trial for two weeks, and his whole course in relation to the electrical question, his record on gambing and a charge that he sold land valued at $30,000 and a charge that he sold land valued at $30,00 to the city while in office were thoroughly reviewed in the testimony. The prosecution succeeded in establishing beyond a doubt the Mayor record on these questions, but the judges exqued the Mayor on the ground that he had acted in good faith in his deals with the gamblers, etc., and supposed himself to be acting for the best interests of the city. The element in favor of law and order, backing the prosecution, were not satisfied at all with the decision, and took exceptions to the rulings of the Court, intending to make an appeal.

ARGUMENTS IN THE A. R. U. CASES CLOSED Chicago, Scpt. 28.—The closing arguments in the A. R. U. contempt cases were made to-day, and the cases are now in the hands of the court. Judge Woods set no date for announcing his decision, declaring he had not yet had time to thoroughly re-

A CHICAGO REFORMER'S LIFE THREATENED Chicago, Sept. 28.—Mrs. W. G. Clarke, wife of the Rev. W. G. Clarke, chairman of the Committee on Gambling of the Civic Federation, which has been waging a vigorous war on the gamblers for some time, received an anonymous letter by mail to-day, warning her to look well to her child, and threatening that 'your husband's death will not astisfy those who meditate this hellish business. Mrs. Clarke was ill in bed when she received the letter. Mr. Clarke says he is certain the letter was written on account of his connection with the attack on gambling, but says that it will have no effect on his actions
